"Beginner" can be a bit vague, so we are defining this as someone that cannot beat (or who loses over 50% of the time to) IntuitionBot on <https://www.playtak.com>. If you have never played online, or never played that bot, you are still welcome to compete, just be sure to familiarize yourself with the site before your first match. If you think you might be too good, just sign up anyway and we'll let you know if we need to bump you up to the Intermediate Tournaments.

Games will be scheduled through the Tak Talk Discord in the Tournaments channel. Your matches and running points accumulation will be pinned there as well.

Don't know how to play Tak at all? Check out this excellent, 2 minute How To Play Video to brush up on the rules.

Tournament Structure:

The tournament starts with Round Robin groups, meaning you will play 1 match (2 games) against each other person in your group in an effort to accumulate points. There are 4 total points available in each match: 2 for each game win, 1 for a draw, and 0 for a loss. The player in each group with the most points after the Round Robin stage will move on to a single elimination finals bracket.

Participation Prizes:

Just for completing all your matches, you will be entered into a drawing for participation prizes:

- High-level game review (2 available) - a high-level player will evaluate your game and provide constructive feedback. Example
- Paperback version of Mastering Tak (2 available).

Merit Prizes:

1st Place - First pick of the following:

- Wolf and Hawk metal capstones from Worldbuilder's Market.
- Tak, 2nd Edition, published and provided by Greater than Games.

2nd Place - Remaining prize from above.

- Each match consists of 2 games, where the players alternate starting colors.
- Please coordinate your matches on Discord in the #tournaments channel.
